

SHIPPING POLICY

Delivery lead-times are an estimate of normal working days Monday to Friday and not a guarantee of a delivery date. Due to the nature of the courier industry and the impact of Covid we will make every effort to achieve a required date and the date provided by however there may be unforeseen delays. As such we ask that you allow a few additional days to the date we provide to combat any issues.

Not all products are held in stock as some require manufacturing to suit your requirements or assembly from parts. As such these products typically require additional time for delivery and it is reflected in the approx delivery lead-time.

Based on the value of your order there may be an additional delivery cost for a minimum order value if the minimum order value is not met, otherwise delivery is free of charge.